

Something's changed within this life Like a lights been turned on late at night since my thoughts have changed

A veil's been lifted from these eyes like a self imposed suicide of old beliefs

So I changed my thoughts and I changed my ways and I changed the way I approach the day and I'm taking control

Night will come and I will pray and I think of things I'd love to change and I just let go

Empower Me Now I see it's always up to me, it's up to me Empower me Now I see, It's it's always up to me, I believe

And if I fall along the way I know there's things that I can change to make things right

And if I feel like I could fly well I'd spread these wings of faith and try and I'd just take flight

Chorus

Cause every strong belief creates our lives
And voices are the choices from inside

Chorus
